MILITIA HILL

The Club was proud to open a second championship eighteen-hole course in 2002 designed by Dr. Michael Hurdzan and Dana Fry. Adjacent to the Wissahickon course, it is named Militia Hill as it overlooks an area steeped in Revolutionary War history. The golf course hosted the 2003 and 2004 Philadelphia Section PGA Championship and the 2004 Philadelphia Amateur Championship. The golf course was meant to distinguish the new eighteen holes in a way that would complement the older course, but not clash with it.

Militia Hill has also been ranked as high as #21 in the state of Pennsylvania by Golfweek Magazine.
